OUR IMPACT

Get Involved

Whether you partner with us as a donor, volunteer, or both, there is a place for you at Project Transformation. You are invited and encouraged to support the work of young adults in their service while discerning God's call on their lives.

Each year, Project Transformation engages over 30 college-age young adults in ministry and service with over 200 children at site churches located in communities across South Texas. Historically, 90% of children maintain or improve their literacy level.

CHILDREN

Children 1st through 6th grades improve their academic, social, emotional, and spiritual development through participating in holistic, high-quality literacy focused, out-of-school time programs led by college-age young adults.

"This program has been instrumental in my son's growth and development with social skills and reading. We both look forward to this program every summer!"

- PT Parent

COLLEGE

Project Transformation's faith-based internships are for young adults 19 and older and/or who have completed their first year of college and are interested in serving others. The program is designed to offer young adults a hands-on opportunity to build professional work skills and lasting relationships with children who need it the most, live in intentional Christian community, experience cultural and socio-economic diversity, and explore various careers in ministry and service.

"I am so grateful for my PT experience and have grown so much this summer!"

- Lyla, PT Intern

CHURCHES

Site churches in over burdened communities host our out-of-school time programs, reconnecting and building relationships with their neighbors.

Supporting the work of our site churches are Partner Churches who enter in relationship with Project Transformation by committing volunteer, financial, and spiritual resources to our programs.

"I witnessed children who didn't believe they could read well start to read and watched their confidence and pride grow!"
